– Secondary School Certificates and Tracks Under Which the Student is Allowed to Apply to the University of Bahrain

1. Bahraini Secondary School Certificate in the following tracks (provided that the GPA should not be less than 70%):

Literary track, scientific track, business track, religious track, industrial developed track, business developed track, unified track, Administrative and Technological, business or industrial apprenticeship (advanced), Graduates of Nasser Vocational Training Center.

The University accredits certificates granted by private schools in the Kingdom of Bahrain, which are recognized by the Ministry of Education, provided that these certificates are based on twelve academic years starting from the first year of primary school.

2. Arab Secondary School Certificate granted by the Ministries of Education in Arab countries: This certificate shall be treated the same as the Bahraini general secondary school certificate after being approved by the competent authorities in the Ministry of Education, provided that these certificates should be based on twelve academic years starting from the first year of primary school.

3. Pakistan Higher Secondary School Certificate: The University accredits the second section of this certificate only.

4. India Higher Secondary School Certificate: The University accredits the Senior level of these certificates only.

– International General Certificate of Secondary Education (GCSE-IGCSE) and International Baccalaureate (IB)

First: Admission Requirements:

Holders of the International General Certificate of Secondary Education (GCSE-IGCSE) are accepted according to the regulations and conditions in force at the University, in addition to the following regulations and conditions:

1. The certificate must be accredited by the concerned authorities in the Ministry of Education.
2. The University applicant must have passed at least 8 (eight) courses – according to the Extended System – with at least: two of them being at the advanced level (A-Level), or one of them being in the same level in addition to two or more of the advanced supplementary level (AS-Level) with a grade of (C) with one course with a grade of (D), or the equivalent of these two grades in the numerical grading system.
3. The period of passing any of the required courses shall not exceed 4 years.
4. The courses should be in the fields of: mathematics, science, social sciences and arts, taking into consideration the special requirements of the colleges as follows:

Colleges: Science, Engineering, and Information Technology

- a mathematics course at the advanced level (A-level).
- a physics course at the AS-level as a minimum.
- a chemistry course at the regular level (GCSE) as a minimum.

College of Health Sciences

- two Mathematics and Biology courses at the AS-level as a minimum.
- two physics and chemistry courses at the regular level (GCSE) as a minimum.

College of Business Administration

- a mathematics course at the AS-level as a minimum.

Colleges of Law and Arts

- an Arabic language course at the advanced level, or an English language course at the advanced supplementary level for the Bachelor's program in English.

College of Applied Education

- Accepted students shall be distributed by the college itself to its majors according to the students' choices and results.

Second: Calculating the certificate percentage:

- The grades obtained by the student for the courses he or she passed are given the percentages indicated in the following two tables:

Alphabetical system:

Grade	Equivalent percentage
-------	-----------------------

A*	100%
----	------

A	95%
---	-----

B	85%
---	-----

C	75%
---	-----

D	65%
---	-----

Numerical system:

9	100%
---	------

8	98%
---	-----

7	95%
---	-----

6	88%
---	-----

5	82%
---	-----

4	75%
---	-----

3	65%
---	-----

- To calculate the student's nominal percentage: add up the percentages of the eight highest grades obtained by the student (provided that the courses required for each college should be calculated) and divide the total by eight.

Third: Exemption from the Foundation Year Program:

The applicant will be exempted from the foundation year if at least a grade of (C) was obtained in the English language course that was studied as a first language at the levels: regular, advanced supplementary, or the advanced level, or if a grade of no less than (B) was obtained if he studied it as a second language at any of the aforementioned levels.

Fourth: Course Accreditation

The student may apply for the accreditation of the courses he passed at the advanced level (A-level) with a grade of (B) and above with courses similar to those of the first level (100) in the program in which he was accepted, provided that the number of equivalent hours does not exceed 21 credit hours (equivalent courses are not counted within the cumulative average and the student is given a grade of (E) in these courses in their academic record).
